Photos, video interviews from Bermuda London forums

Hamilton, Bermuda, February 1, 2019—Close to 200 industry professionals from shipping to insurtech attended a day-long, multi-industry forum in London late last year, the fourth to date organised by the Bermuda Business Development Agency (BDA). The November 27 Bermuda Executive Forum event included a chat on blockchain benefits between Premier David Burt and Lord Holmes of Richmond, while a Bermuda Fintech Forum morning the following morning featured AIG CEO Brian Duperreault who praised the Bermuda’s market’s legacy of innovation. ILS Bermuda rounded off two days of events with a half-day summit highlighting insurance-linked securities, titled “Beyond Convergence.” All three initiatives combined to showcase Bermuda's government, industry and regulatory expertise and business opportunities.

Registration is now open for the BDA’s 2019 forums, in New York \(March 21\) and Toronto \(June 19\). A third forum will also be held in London in November.
